New members appointed to the Guidelines in Practice editorial board

Monday, 11th May, 2009: MGP Ltd is pleased to announce that two new members have been appointed to the Guidelines in Practice editorial board: Omar Ali, the Formulary Development Pharmacist for Surrey and Sussex NHS Trust; and Dr Jenny Gordon, Programme Manager for Evidence into Practice at the RCN Institute. Their contributions, particularly regarding pharmacist- and nurse-focused content, will be invaluable.

Guidelines in Practice is the monthly clinical journal that helps GPs and other healthcare professionals practise evidence-based medicine and implement national guidelines locally. Its audience comprises 21,000 clinical decision makers in practices, primary care organisations, and practice-based commissioning groups.

The continued success of Guidelines in Practice is underpinned by the ongoing NHS focus on the implementation of guidance to deliver a high-quality service to patients.

MGP specialises in reaching primary care clinical decision makers, payers, and influencers via high-quality publications and through innovative educational projects.
